

The Alertness Test selects shapes from a single row for each test screen. Users can review each row to note the differences.

